While walking about in almost any city in Morocco one is almost sure to near at some point of his rambles a confused babel of sound, very hise that of a mass of children reciting in unison a lesson or composition of some sert, is-suing from, usually, a mean, dilapidat-ed building, situated in an obscure, dark corner of the street. Upon nearer ap-proach; and, if the surroundings are faproach; and, if the surroundings are favorable, closer inspection, one sees in a small dirty room—lighted only by a little window and the open door, having for its furniture, if any at all, only a low desk, such as the Moors use, of the meanest description, together with a few bits of ragged matting stretched along the walls, and some pieces of rugs in an equally ragged condition, covering the floor behind the desk—stiding cross-legged, a man, rod in hand, and in front of him, ranged in a circle, sit cross-legged, also, a number of children, who while chanting in unison produce the sounds which attracted your attention, accompanying the whole with a rhythmic swaying of the body back and forward. It is a school, as has been probably surmised 'ere this. The old man in the ragged jelaha is the school-master, while the almost naked children are the pupils, who are being tangit. master, while the almost naked children are the pupils, who are being taught the beginning and the end of a Mussillman's life, the Koran, which is their sole education, the State defraying all expenses of the same, which cannot be very heavy, as the teachers only receive about fifteen cents a month salary, the scholars supplying them with food The schools are free and overy city, town and vil. are free, and every city, town and vil-lage has a sufficient number of them to attend to the education of its children, their attendance being compulsory Here it is in these dark, miserable, dirty rooms that the young minds of the chil-dren are dwarfed and the wall built around them that bars their progress bereafter beyond a certain point, this point was reached over five hundred years ago, from this point since then they have not moved, nor will they un less compelled to Here it is also that the seads of that blad forestrelm which he seeds of that blind fanaticism which rules Morocco and other Mohammeda countries are sown, and the degrading precepts of the Koran taught, the effects of which are only too easily to be traced all over the Mohammedan world, keepng back as it has its civilization, an toducing those who believe in and fol-low its doctrines into depraved, sensual boasts, having no aims or motives in life whatsoever Mohammedanism has had its day, has served its purpose—partially civilized a race of people that were up to the time of the promulgation of that reheion, beyond the reach of Christian influence. Here its mission of working good to, and pro moting the welfme of the world ceased nace then it has been as a clock with coorned hands, the machinery has run out the hands ceased to advance—pointng always to the same time. It is: had it not been uphold, directly and inthrough realousy of one another, have built under it at various times the props which are now supporting its existence as a power, and which the indomitable energy of Christians and the health truths of their religions are constant? underpinning, causing the "grave diple matic questions" which are always are ing in the European Cabinets concerning this rue of people to remain in a chronic state of seroness—Cor Cinem

"Natural" Nancy Luce.

nati Commercial Gazette

Misa Nancy Luce is a resident of Tis bury, on the Island of Martha's Vine yard the house in which she was born her parents occupied, and since their death Nancy has lived in it alone It is situated about three-quarters of and is flunded about three-quarters of a male from the village of West Tisbury and is flunded on either side by a grove of trees. Nancy is regarded as a natural curiosity, and one of the first trips a visitor to the Vineyard undertakes us a visit to her hermitage. In her early youth she was a peculiar child, it is said, and was looked upon by the neighbors as a sort of "natural As she grow to womanhood her only companions were a nannie-goat and the house, a wild creature whom she alonhad udden. Her equestrian perform ances were remarkable for the daring and skill displayed, and are even now well remembered

When a young woman, Nancy suddenly that herself up in her room, and refused to see even her parents for a long time Different causes were assigned for this act Some say that Nancy had a lover, whose name was also Luce Ar chic was a sailor, and, owing to some lovers' quarrel, he departed suddenly on a long voyage without bidding Nan cy farowell His ship was never sighted after she left port on a dark, cloudy morning Months after she had gone a narrow strip of board with gilt mold ings and letters was washed ashere on the west side of the island where some one found it and deciphered the words "Arethusa." It was the name of Archie Luce's ship They carried it to Then about this time her goat died, and this later bereavement greatly added to her grief. This attachment in itself was not currous, but the effect of the goat's death upon her was a great surprise to the village folk. While her parents lived she declined to see any one for a long time, but after their death she was of necessity forced to have more or less to do with the outside world and gradually became accustomed to

"WE want a man for President of the United States who knows what he means wher, he talks about commerce," says Governor Oglesby. A good bit. What does Gov. Cleveland know about commerce, or, for that matter, about anything else that a President of the United States ought to know?

THE galiant Republicans of Logan county will be here in force to hear Oglesby on Saturday night-one thousand strong, they say. The various Blaine and Logen clubs of Springfield meet to night to make arrangements for coming here on a

Tim Peoria Democracy seems to be in a bad way. Some days ago Representative Quinn took a turn and brought up in the Republican camp, and now Mr. Spollman, who was a chairman of the County Contral Committee in 1882, declines a nomination on the Democratic ticket. The Harrison circus should lose no time in billing that town.

THE Rev. Dr. George H. Ball, of Buffalo, N. Y., who was one of the ministers interested in looking up the past moral record of Grover Cleveland, has brought auit for libel against the New York Post and its weekly issue, the Nation, laying his damages at $25,000. The trial will take place in Buffalo as soon as possible. Dr. Ball ovidoutly believes what he said of Cleveland, and has the courage to defend himself.

Asornea new party was born at Bloomington yesterday-the People's party-made up of the discerdant and belligerent fragmonts of the late Greenback and Anti-Monopoly parties. This party agreed by resolution to fuse with either of the old parties on an electoral ticket, but declared that it would accept no terms which did not accord to it aovon olectoral votes. A state neket was nominated, headed by the chief blatherskite of the gang, Jesse Harper, for governor. Let him be pit ted against Harrison on the stump, for he is the only man in Illinois who loss a sufficiently large flock of ough a for that purpose, or whose wind so for outstrips has wisdom as to put him on a level with the chaef horn blower of the Democracy. Among the promoment converts to the cause of Blame and Oglesby who will march in the procession Saturday night with the Blaine and Logan white but briga le of Lincoln. John Edmonds, editor of the Lincoln Daily Journal and Logan County Tribune, two influential publications. Edmonds has always been a Democrat up to the present campaign. He supports Blaine because the party which remarated him had the courage to nominate a man of brains independe d of residence and the possibility of carrying a doubtful state. Edmonds' position is a political thorn to the local Democracy of Lincoln. Ho is a young and auccessful journalist who has mounted the wave of adversity with the intention in the future of rolling in the Republican chariot of progress and roform.

Indianapous, Ind., August 28 -The following letter has been received by the Indianapolis Times. It is from Wm M Johnson, of Dallas, a highly respected Democratic citizen, and a sou of Thoraton F. Johnson, at whose institute James G Blaine and Miss Harriet Stanwood were teachers:

DALLAS, TEX., August 25.
To the Editor of the Indiamopolis Times
Ship—In answer to your request for a statement as to my inots relating to the stander upon Mr and Mrs. Blaine, I will say this much The shander was first circulated at Drennon Springs, Ky., in March, 1861, by a permicious seandal-morger, a tailor from Millersburg, Ky., on a visit to Drennon to collect some bills due him by the cadets.
His object in originating this story was either to pander to the permicious appetite of young men for such subjects or to gratify some spite against Mr. Blaine, Mr.
19aine being at this time absent on a trip to Louisville the scandal aid not reach his cars, or it would have been disposed of then and there forever. Rom mining uncontrailects, inchoogh unbelieved, it was scattened to the four winds of heaven by the lovers of such title. In this way originated this baleful broath of slander against the fair name of a most modest lady, without even a shadly of a fact to warrant it. Mr. Blaine remained professor of Latin in the Institution until ISE. My father, the principal, died in October 1881.

Does it stand to reason that with even the least possibility of such a story being true that Mr. Blaine would have been allowed to remain at the institute, or that my father could have masseciated with such a mah. As for myself, I can say that for four years I know Mr. and Mrs. Blaine intimately, as theroughly as any man can know his brother and sistor, living under the same roof, enting at the same table, member of the same family closs, yet I now or dreamed or such a suspletion. Nevtz was there a more modest and Chicano Journal: Carter Harrison is attempting to make political papital in his stump speeches out of the fact that the star-route rascals were not convicted. The principal reason why they were not ecnvicted was that William Dixon, a noted Democrat of the city of Washington, who was a delegate to the late National Democratic Convention, and is now a member of the Democratic National Committee, was foreman of the jary before which they were tried, and he so manipulated his colleagues as to secure a verdict of acquittal. He was very properly indicted subsequently for conspiracy to procure a verdict of not guilty in the starroute cases, and ought to have received the punishment which the Maud S. arrived here this noon in good condition. Just before the first heat in the 2 17 pacing race was called, there was a collision above the grand stand between George G., driven by McCarthy, and Princess, driven by Golden. McCar thy was coming down the track to get position for the start, and Golden was going up on the same errand at The wwitt. pace. Princess shaft pierced the breast of George G, entering his heart, the horses, drivers and suities went down in a heap. The suities were smashed, and Mc-Carthy's aukle was badly sprained, but Gordon was not injured. George G got on his feet, walked a few yards, then dropped and died He was bored in-mediately in sight of the audience Princess had her spine dislocated so badly as to parallic her hindquarters and she must die. THE New York Tribune admirably epitomizes Democratic campaign nethods:

1864. By fraudulent returns of otes of soldiers. 1868. By repeating and frauduplent naturalization. 1876. By tissue ballots and ciher despatches. 1880. By forged letters and affidsvits. 1884. By defacement of tombs. In 1872, it might be added, their nethod of campaigning was by masquerading as Liberal Republicans. In every case deserved disaster has overtaken them.

CINCINNASI, O., August 28.—Yesterday the Sigma Chi fratornity in session received and adopted the reports of the committees on fraternity, history, olub song book, last year's report of the Grand Council, and the constitution. This last is important, as it provides for an entire remodeling of that instrument, and the creation of District Connells anhservient to the Grand Council, to which large powers are delegated. The reason therefor is because the order has grown too large and widespread to handle from one center.

IMPORTANT RAILWAY CHANGE. sup't. Armstrong and His Office

The change in the location of the office

the Division Superintendent of the Wabash, St. Louis and Pacific Railway Company has been in contemplation for some months, and yesterday the change was made, the office, books and paraphernalia being brought here from Springfield. Mr. E. N. Armstrong, (successor to Harry F. Clark), is the division superintendent. He is now in the city attending to his duties, assisted by a force of fifteen clerks. The temporary office is in the J. A. Swearingen building, second floor, over Swearingen & Shilling's drug store, corner East Eldorado and Morgan streets. Here the office will remain until the Wabash can put up a large building near the depot to be used jointly by the superintendent and the crew of train despatch-

Mr. Armstrong, who is a genial gentlemau and is a railway man of many years experience, controls many miles of the Wabash. He is the division been of the line in Illinois from Decatur to Chicage, St. Louis, Quincy, and also the Hannibal

The REPUBLICAN welcomes Mr. A. and uis men to Decatur and hopes their expeience here in the management of the illairs of the road and in their association with our people will always be successful and agreeable, to such an extent at least that they will never want to "give us the shake," but will speak well of Decatur on all occasions as the railway and commercial centre of Illinois. THE OFFICE FORCE

Below is a full list of the 16 men occupying the seven offices:

E. N. Armstrong, superintendent of Middle Division. D. W. Kider, chief elerk.

Clerks—C. A. Henderson, F. B. Henderson, W. H. Whitehurst, T. J. Kennedy, W. C. Purdy, E. F. Dawson, George B. Flack, C. A. Dallman, J. Bennett. Stenographers-J. L. Hibbard and F.

Operators—F. H. VanEtten, S. C. Palmer and G. H. Goodfellow. Mr. Armstrong has a wife, two children and his father, all of whom will make their home in Decatur.

E. F. Dawson has a wife and one child The others are single young men Mr. Armstrong has charge of 1220 miles froad, constituting the middle division of the Wabash, reaching east to Tilton to Chicago, west to St. Louis, Quincy, Hannibal, Keokuk, Burlington, Grafton and Effingham; also the Jerseyville, C., H. & W., P., P. & J. and Springfield & North-

Mr. Armstrong has issued his first or-der, No. 14, from Decatur, stating that the superintendent's office of the Middle Division is now located at Decatur. Ill: that O. J. Travis is appointed master of bridges and buildings with headquarters at Springfield; and that Charles Hansel is appointed resident engineer of the diviion with headquarters at Springfield.

LINCOLN'S LEGION.

Coming a Thousand Strong With Gallant Dick Oglesby.

[Special to the REPUBLICAN.]

LINCOLN, Aug. 28.—The Republicans of Logan county will furnish convincing proof Saturday that they are heart and hand for Gov. Oglesby and the presidential ticket. The Blaine and Logan Club, consisting of 200 white plugs and dusters, headed by a uniformed band, will come on a special train. The Central Committee of Logan county have arranged with the P., D. & E., for a special free train, arriving at the Union depot in Decatur about 7:15 p. m.

THE Republican ward clubs at Springfield will mest to-night to complete arrangements for coming to Decatur Saturpeared to please all present. Prof. Bull day evening to participate in the Oglesby meeting and toroblight process coln and other points will send delegations, and all Decatur voters will turn out in full force. Meetings at headquarters to-night and to-morrow night.

> Tue members of the Blaine and Logan Escort club are requested to meet at headquarters to-night to drill and prepare for Saturday night. Captain Strange requests that there be a full attendance.

LAST Sunday morning between 5 and clock an enterprising news boy was at the Methodist camp ground, going from tent to tent crying out: "Here's your morning paper," before the tenters had arisen from their couches. Dr. Lowrey, the apostle of holinose, was aroused by the boy, and the venerable divine emerged from the tent and gave the boy a sharp talk, telling him to skip out and take his papers away. Later Dr. Lowrey took occasion to go for that boy from the platform. He is opposed to the sale of papers on the ground on Sundays, and said it was as much as he could do to read a secular paper on a week day. Evidently the disciple of boliness wasn't feeling very well last Sunday, and to be consist ent he should forbid the hawking sales of song books on the Sabbath.

THE funeral of the late Henry Warneeke. Wabash engineer killed at Harvel last night, will take place from the Ger man Lutheran church to morrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. The Knights of Pythas will meet at their hall to-night to make arrangements for attending the fqueral of their deceased brother.

Cerect.

The Springfield Journal of to-day save Superintendent E. N. Armstrong, who Waliash, a few mouths ago, as successo Mr. H. F. Clark, has removed his office to Decatur. This is another gain for Decatur and a loss for Springfield. It won't be long until our neighboring village will be extending her band endeav-oring to secure the Wabash shops.

Fatal Railway Accident A sad accident on the St. Louis division of the Wabash road occurred last night between 9 and 10 o'clock, at Harel, 46 miles south of Decatur and second station below Taylorville. Freight train No. 58, engine 129, was coming toward Decatur at a lively rate of speed. Stuking a misplaced switch at Harvel, the en-gine and about 21 of the loaded cars were thrown from the track into the ditch. Henry Warnecke, the engineer, fell under the engine and was killed, and the head brakeman, Thomas Devlin, was also killed. The fireman, Nolan, escaped. The Wabash wrecking train was sent down to the scene at once, and this morning two coffine were forwarded to Harvel to bring o Decatur the bodies of the dead men.

Henry Warnecke has a family at 1019 North Clayton street, this city. He was the owner of several tenement houses and his life was insured for $3,000. He was a member of Cour de Leon Lodge, Knights of Pythias, this city.

Tom. Devlin was formerly in the em-ploy of the Midland. He was a single

It was learned to-day that the ewitch had been unlocked and left part way open. The devilish deed must have been done by some one, at present unknown, out of pure cussedness. va.: "Christ hath redeemed us from the curse of the law, being made a curse for us, &c." The text declares an accomspiritual, came to us because Christ redoemed us. Sin, universal cursed, is evory one that is under the law. The con coived by redemption and faith in Jean Christ. One of the conditional blessings consequent on the redemption is justifi ention by faith. By what possible means shall a support be justified? The law can not justify him; there must be a gracious pardon of sin in order that God might pardon. Christ came and oudered the curse of the law for us. This benefit a only by faith. The legal consequence of sin must be removed before any other step can be taken. Next benefit in the re demption scheme is the adoption into th divine family the relation of sun, made so by a new creation. Other benefits sanctification of the spirit; the indwelling of the Holy Ghost. The crowning blessing of the redemption is the gift of the Holy Spirit, the blessing as received only by faith in Christ. There is a mountain weight of responsibility on every one who does not accept the full ben efit of the redemption. This discourse was followed by an altar service, which was a scene of interest. The rain coming made some confusion Mrs. Hughes and others conducted in children's meeting at 5 o'clock. Then meetings are very interesting, and will long be remembered by the little ones; many of them have been led to Christ.

At 6:30 a woman's meeting was held conducted by Mrs. Dr. Lowrey, Notwithstanding the rain that shut off friends from a distance, there were about 200 ladies assembled. The meeting was of a social nature—many happy testimonies concerning personal experiences. At 7:30 there was quite a large gathering for a wet evening. Meeting opened with singing of several selections.

Rev. W. Higgs led in prayer—the song, "By and by we shall meet Him."
The order was changed somewhat on account of the weather. Bro. Weber was to have related his experience and it thought best to postpone that until to morrow (Thursday) night. He exhorted principally on the necessity of being born again. He then invited the workers out into the congregation, and asked the unsaved to come forward. There was great interest manifested, and several grandest in results.

Dr. J. W. Wilson has had large success in his work; 1600 souls have been led to Christ in less than one year, and he has devoted himself wholly to the evangelistic work. He retains his membership in the Southern Illinois Conference. J W. Weber, like a flame, has had a wonderful astory; has brought hundreds to Christ. His success has been up to the highest in the months of the past. Dr. Lowrey has a reputation all over the church, and his

The Rain Does Not Chill the Ardor

The sun is shining brightly again to day, but yesterday afternoon and last night it was a continued drizzle at the Methodist camp meeting ground. The rain interfered materially with the attendance of visitors from the city at the evening service, but the campers were all out and participated in the exercises, which grow in interest daily. Last night the compers slept comfortably, but this morning after 5 o'clock when the rain came down bard there was something of scramble to find shelter beneath the water-proof tents. The sides of the big tent were let down, so that the water ran of quickly and kept the benches from get

A Timely Hint. Those who use the refrigerator should bear in mind the fact that when any ar-ticle of food has been on the ice, or in anywiy subjected to unusual coldness, decomposition is very rapid when removed, and that the sooner such food is cooked—thus arresting the process of decay—the better for the health. Such unnatural coldness will so basten decay that such food should not be subjected to the warmth of a summer's day tot a half hour, if we wish to guited against dote rioration, at hast after that coldness has been removed by the lit it of the day. It is probable that food would be better, more wholesome if not subjected to such an intensity of coldness, on account of the fermentive and puttefactive tendencles when the reaction occurs. The proper range of fermentation or that in which it is the most active, is from 50 to 100 degrees Fahrenheit, slow at 50 moderate at 60, rapid at 70 very rapid at 90, and stops at 105 and also below 80 degrees The putter attry fermentstion ha it is sometimes called, effects It is well to remember that fruits, etc.,

are best kept by a temperature but a little above that of ficezing (32 degrees for fresh water the zero point being at a coldness which freezes suit witer), at which point it is site to keep ordinary that very cold foods are unside for the dyspeptic or such as have impured digestion as well as very hot, the cold-ness absolutely preventing digestion till the normal heat of the stonnich (100 legrees) is restored, while a heat sometimes endined by experts in tendrinking so effects the prism of the gastric juice that it is valueless in the digestive process I ct it be distinctly remembered that the patic scenee of decaying meats fish, fowl ctc, is the worse than the acidity of ferment thou, this not being necessarily humbal. Indeed I do not know that there is my objection to certain changes in milk—particularly when occasioned by the action of a thinder shower—or before the putre factive process commences. This soap is taken from the Morican Paimea or soap root, and contains no animal fut. As a tolist soap it is superior to anything over offered to the public While its cleanating capacity is a times greater than any soap made from alkall and grease, it contains nothing that would injure the most delicate skin, on the contrary, it will core chapped hands, pinples, sunburn and all diseases of the skin. After washing with this soap a short time the skin becomes smooth and soft rendering the complexion clear and beautiful. It will be found valuable as a bair wash, in renovating and preventing dandruff. Its great purity and freedom from unineral and animal substances makes it the most desirable article for the infant bath that can be procured. It is the cheapest soap you can buy because it will go farther and give botter satisfaction than any other bentrall to give it a trial.
